In Iquique, Chili, a large number of people raided a club established by the residents of Peru and pulled down the national flag of Peru and burnt it. A serious disturbance arose in consequence and many people were wounded. In the end the military had to be called out to restore order. Some diplomatic trouble is expected. The cause of this extraordinary affair is not known yet.

STATE INSURANCE BILL.

New Light on the Proposals.

Copies of the National Insurance Bill were issued on hex 9th in the House of Commons. There was an extraordinary demand for copies, of which 40,000 were printed as quickly as possible. The Bill is introduced by the Chance lor of the Exchequer, backed by Mr Sydney Buxton, Mr Churchill, Mr Burns, Mr Herbert Samuel, the Attorney-General, .. the Solicitor-General, Mr Masterman, and Mr Hubbouse. It consists of 87 clauses, is divided into three parts, and exclusive of the schedules occupies 68 pages of printed foolscap. Fart I. deals with national health insurance; Part II. with unemployment insurance; while Part III. covers general matters of administration, such as provision as to stamps. It is to comb into force on May I, 1812.

Among the numerous new facts which emerge from a perusal of the bulky document are the following :-- voluntary to the compulsory scheme, and vice read, subject to certain conditions (2) Sickness, disablement, maternity, or medical benefits are to be administered either through existing approved societies or through local health committees.

(3) The societies and local health committees will make arrangements with duly qualified medical men for insured persons to receive attendance and treatment, and for the supply of drugs and medicines.

(4) The societies will have the power to make contributions to hospitals and other charitable institutions.

(5) A woman insured before marriage is auspended from receiving beneats after marriago (nulesa sho continues her emp'oyment), but comes in again on the death of her husband, should he predecease her:

816 (6) A married woman may not be contributor under the voluntary system Divorce or separation will be reckoned. in the case of a woman, as equivalent to the death of the husband. (7) Special arrangements are made for reduced benefits in the case of aliens, but no part of the benefits may be paid out of State money. (8) Special provisions are made for the in surance of soldiers and sailors who wil contribute from their pay. (9) All sums received under the sickness scheme are to be paid into a fund, to be. called the National Health Insurance

(10) A body of Insurance Commissioners | development of technical knowledge. will be formed, with central offices in London and branch offices. The commissioners will be appointed by the Treasury. (11) The commissioners may appoint "oflicers, inspectors, referees, and servants." (12) An advisory committee is also to be appointed as soon as possible.

(13) Arrangements are made for the equi able settlement of any disputes that may 14) Civil proceeding may be taken against employers for neglecting to pay contribu-umpires, inspectors, and a court of Upper House. (17) Employers may compound, at reduced | says :- The Bishop of Winchester holds,

Mr Keir Hardie went out of his way recently to attack the Prince of Wales. Referring, in a speech at Tonypandy, to Lordship I will commend to him the the forth-coming investiture of the Prince at Carnarvon, he used the following choice language :- "The first Prince of Wales was the son of the conqueror of Wales, and the ceremony ought to make every Welsh ALWAYS ON HAND man who is patriotic blush with shame Now every flunkey in Wales, Liberal and Tory alike; is grovelling on his hands and

LONDON UNIVERSITY

The Engineering Degree.

For eight years the University of London has awarded an orgineering degree. During that period the Sonate—the governing body-han not been very closely in touch with the engineering profession. The Sonato, says Engineering, consists of fifty six members. There are nine official representatives and one official representative of applied science. Many weary hours, it is said, are now wasted by men who give unsparingly of their scanty leisure, because of the cumbersome machinery of administration. Two things, therefore, from the engineer's point of view, are required for the immediate and adequate development of centres for instruction and research in technology in the Metropolis. They are: (a) the driving force money; (a) the closer co-operation of the "captains of industry" and the engineering institutions. Many believe that when the latter is accomplished the former will also be obtained. That has been the experience in the provinces. An Act Parliament gives the Senate of the Uni-(1) Insured persons may transfer from the versity jurisdiction over 2,830 square miles. With such an area concentration at any one centre is impossible. It takes longer to go from West Ham to South Kensington than from Edinburgh to Glasgow. The cost, continues Engineering, of a "daily ticket" from Croydon to Gower Street is German university. If the area is divided more than the fees_charged by a Scotch or up into districts, each having the population of Liverpool, it will be seen at once that several more technical colleges are still needed. Districts of this size must have real existences, from a sociological standpoint. The administrative counties and the county boroughs must have a close connection with the University. Above all else, the degree must be maintained at its present high standard. Paris and Berlin draw from a much smaller local population, and have each 12,000 students at the University. The improved facilities for training in technology in America, Scotland, and the provincial cities has shown, beyond doubt, that parents will make the necessary sacrifice to send their sons to college. The youths_of to-day are the engineers of tomorrow; the training suitable to the 'sixties is not, of necessary, the training for the international competition of, say, 1920. It is the duty of the present membors of the profession, adds Engineering to see that the new recruits have ful opportunities to incresse, and assist in, the

QUEEN VICTORIA.

King George's Glowing Tribute.

On the occasion of the unveiling of the Queen Victoria Memorial, a glowing tribute was paid to her late Majesty by King

His Majesty said :-- We meet-together to colebrate the completion of the noble monument which has been raised to Queen Victoria by her people all over the world. Ten years have passed since these who were chosen for this trust from the foremost amongst both great parties in the State began their labours. My beloved father during his period had watched over and guided the work with interest and close attention, anxiously looking forward to the coremony now to be performed. Though, alas, not spared to see the completion of the Memorial, King Edward VII. is more than ever in our loving thoughts to-day. The Committee is deserving of public approbation for the care and judgment which they have bestowed on the honourable duty confided to them. The Momorial itself, alike in beauty and situation, does justice to the art of the sculptor and the skill of the architect. It now stands complete before our eyes .769 I to revive for us and to convey to our descondants the lastre and fame which shine nester that happy age of British history, seem n' bend held for a period and the district span of bunne one, the scopers of the Empire. and when the emple virtues of a Queen commoned the marts of natio a. The Dominions and Colonies beyond the seas, which grow vastly in pros crity and strength-during her rei n, and whose loyalty centred ever more directly upon her august person, have from every part and quarter of the globe united to enshrine her memory; and this monument represents the tributes of races and regions more various in character and circumstances than have been combined before upon a 680 common purpose.

It is a source of deep satisfaction to me SKIN and to my family that my dear cousin the German Emperor, accompanied by the Empress, is present at this historic ceremony. His Imperial Majesty is the eldest grandson of Queen Victoria, whom he always loved and venerated with natural affection and his presence and sympathy with professes to do—re others seem at the state of the us during the last days of her life and afterwards will never be forgotten by me and my people. Strong and living ties of kinship and friendship unite our thrones and persons, "The nation rejoices with me that he is here to-day to share in the unveiling of this memorial. I pray this monument may stand for ever in London to proclaim the glories of the option of renewal at a Crown Rent reign of Queen Victoria, and to prove to future generations the sentiments of affection and reverence which her prople felt for her and her memory As time passes on and years unfold events are revealed in their true character and proportion. We are sure that the tributes we SCROPULA, pay to-day will not be disputed by posterity. Her life was devoted to the discharge of her solemn public duty. - Her authority was exercised on all occasions with sincers ULCERS. respect for constitutional usage and tradi-BKIN & BLOOD tion. THE SHOPS BILL.

Government Defeat on an Important Point.

In the discussion: in committee, of Shops Bill the Government were defeated by 27 votes to 26 on a point affecting the 18, 1908. question of the overtime allowance employers who give their sesistants an annual holiday on full pay. The amendment was to strike out the words in the clause allowing thirty hours overtime to be worked by an assistant who received a forte highly estimated, since it cleanes and cinera the night's holiday, and it was carried.

In the course of the discussion the question of butchers' holidays, the pa assistants when in camp as Territorials, and Sunday closing were touched uron On the letter point Mr Churchill said that while they desired to give Jews who ploud their shops on Betarday some compensation, they saw that the advantage of being opti on one day without restrictions as to trade when all other shops wers shut, we giving a practical monopoly, and would too great a complement fon. It is the board to allow Jewish shopkeopers only to serve Jews on Sunday, but an amendment is to beintroduced providing that no prosecutions shall take place except when a systematic trade with non-Jewish customers is being

IMAGINATION, M.D.

How to Become Healthy and Strong.

"Plant your feet firmly and squarely on the ground, throw back your shoulders, fold your arms, and sweer in most emphaticterms that you are strong, healthy and well. Do this for a few minutes avery evening, and even if this is not how you actually feel, maintain by your physical and mental attitude that it is your condition, and you will soon find that it be comes so, and that you are not really telling lies."

This was the advice given by Dr J. Stenson Hooker in a recent lecture on "Posturing and Posing for Health" at the Caxton Hall in connection with the opening of the Simple Life Conference and Exhibition.

"It is wonderful to what extent our state-of health can be altered in this way.' Dr Hocker added. "It stirs up the currents of feeling which act on the nerves; these act on the blood vessels, and thus the whole system is improved, and we become different beings.

. Another invaluable exercise is to walk up and down the room for a quarter of an hour or so, with a firm step. Do not be afraid of making a little noise."

With regard to posture in general, Dr Hooker dwelt on the fact that the majority of persons assumed a wrong attitude of body from the moment they got out of bed in the morning.

"Most men and many women," he saidbegin the day by shuffling across the room. When they are dressed they slouch. down to breakfast and sit down to their meal with bent shoulders and twisted legs. Twisted legs and feet are signs of weak mental condition.

"Why not come downstairs erect, and sit down squarely to a square meal, and then go to office in a brisk, determined fashion, and not as if one were going to a

"How to rest is another art to be acquired. Every muscle and every nerve must be completely relaxed, and your body must feel like a piece of washed-out rag.

The opening of the exhibition was performed by Sir John Kirk, who declared that although not a vegetarian any other kind of "arise," he believed that every movement which made for simpler living was to be commended contributory to the national welfare in this age of luxury and self indulgence.

"There has been a great run," says a Astyanax, A. Home, May 19, writer in London Opinion, "on dogs of the toy or pet kinds. Pekinese appear to hold their own." May we offer the observation that the bulldeg is also a capital chap for sticking to things?"

It was in one of the alleys in the East End of London, where a pair of urchins were conversing, when up came Marie Mc Ree, with a lump of sticky toffee in her possession. Of course, both the mehins wanted a bit of this sticky medley, and so they said to Marie:"

"Hi, give us a bit of toffee, Marie!" "Shau't !" came the unexpected answer; "but you can kiss me while me lips | Hangyang, are sticky!"

A boy walked into a merchant's office the other day in search of a situation After being put through a catechism by the Kuikiang, L. H.K. for Shai, May 18. merchant, he was asked :--"Well, my lad, and what is your

A Scotchman at the dentist's was told that he must take gas. While the dentist was getting it ready the Scot began to Shansi, count'his money.

The dentist said, somewhat testily 'You need not pay until the tooth is out." "I ken that," said the Scotchman, "but as ye're about to make me sleep I jist want to see hew I stand."

The teacher had been reading to the class about the great forests of America.

"And now, boys," she announced, " which one of you can tell me the pine that has the longest and sharpest needles?" Up went a hand in the front row. "Well, Tommy?"

"The percupine!"

The newly-wods had decided to have a turkey at their Christmas Day dinner, and as Mr Newly-wed was a perfect novice at carving, his wife insisted on his learning up from the "Cookery Book" how the bird is attacked; in order that he should not display his ignorance before their guests. When the turkey appeared on the table, however, the holt was plainly at a loss how to begin.

"Why don't you carve it dear !" said his bride, anxiously; "you know exactly how it's done.

"Of course I do, love," said Mr Newlywed; "but I cen't find any of the detted

"Very Dry."—Dr. X. was troubled with a nervous and irritable patient, who was constantly sending for him without sufficient cause. He told his son when the last call was made to use the thermometer. " Just put it under his arm," he added, "and if it goes up to 104 send for me." Next day, meeting the lad in the street, he enquired how his father was getting on. "All right," replied the son: "we put the barometer under his arm and it registered 'very dry,' so we gave him some beer, and he went to

A decided halt in this long-conrate of increase would doubtless again direct attention to the theories of volume of gold production as an influence on prices and can hardly be said, proficient. _ that knowledge such conditions in the gold market would be equivalent to advance knowledge of industrial conditions. The world's gold output decreased in each successive year from 1878 to 1883-a period of booming prosperity and rising prices. It increased very rapidly in each successive year from 1891 to 1897—a period of falling prices and industrial reaction. Increase in gold output over the preceding year was exaltation as 1901 and 1906, when not only did the ratio of increase far surpass allother years of the present generation, but when the actual expansion in the product, as compared with 1897, was greater than in any other year but one in the world's historythat one year being the twelvemonth when the richest surface deposits of the California gold fields were first 5.30 p.m.—Organ Recitul at St. John's Cathedral. turned up by the pick of the forty-

The slackening of the increase in 1910 was relatively only trifling and can have affected the money market but slightly. What effect the enormous production of gold in recent years has had upon the economic situation is clearly seen in the wide extension of credit and the overcapitalization mania which has spread so rapidly though commercial and industrial circles, and which has inevitably led to so much rash speculation upon the stock exchanges throughout the world. It is still an open question, however, whether in the event of the rate of annual gold production hereafter increasing no further, the world's markets might return as a IT was CHARLES KINGSLEY who consequence to a normal situation. wrote many years ago, "the nations If such really does eventuate then might the economic To-day he would have to say that embarrassments referred to be the nations are awake and grabbing mitigated, but the riot of reckless at all the gold they can clutch as promotion and speculation, which has

HONGKONG CENSUS.

The Provisional Returns.

The preliminary returns of the 1911 consus in Hongkong are published in the Government Gazette. They are necessarily incomplete, and the official figures will not be published until some four months hence.

The total population of the Culony-Chinese and non-Chinese-is putat 433,793, of which 293,131 are males and 160,662 females. The total Chinese population is 440,636 (285,374 males and 155,262 females), while the non-Chinese number 13,157, of which males total 7,757 and females 5,400. It is impossible to give the comparison on these totals with the 1906 figures, as the latter only applied to a portion of the Colony. The returns do not show any comparison with the last complete censustaken in 1901-as we should have thought they would.

them as far as we are able with the 1906, 1,300 people being killed. figures, we see that the total non-Chinese population, apart from the New Territories, New Kowloon and the mercantile mar is 12,161, which represents a net increase of 1,245, made up of 270 males and 975 females. In all districts have the females steadily advanced in numbers, particularly at Old Kowloon, where they register an increase of 537 against a male increase of 323. In Victoria females have advanced in numbers by 275, while male have fallen, away by 138. The total number of non-Chinese in Victoria is 7,825, an increase of 275; at the Peak 723, an increase of 122; in Hongkong villages 414, an increase of 56; in Old Kowloon 3,129, an increase of 880; at Green Island and Stonecutters 70. The figures for the latter places cannot be compared with 1906, inasmuch as these islands were included in Victoria for that Still confining ourselves to the non-Chinese population, it is seen that the numerical strength of the mercantile marine has shown a very heavy decrease, the total of 743 being 707 less than in 1906. The 743 males are 667 below the 1906 figures and the 2 females 40 less. In New Kow-Chinese population is returned at 251—193 males and 58 females. As the other districts were not included in the 1946 census it is only possible to compare New Kowloon with the last coumeration. Here the total of 129 is an increase of 107.

Exclusive of the New Territories, the total Chinese land population of the Colony is 302,531, which represents a net increase compared with 1906 of 40,395. This increase is shared as follows : - Males, 20,753; females, 19,642. The total Chinese land. population, including the New Territories, is 383,344, of which 248,588 are males and 134,756 females. The New Territories population was not enumerated in 1906, so a comparison cannot be made under

The total number of the Chinese boat population in Victoria Harbour and Hongkong villages is returned at 45,646, of which 28,739 are males and 16,907 females. These figures represent an increase of 2,128 males and 774 females. The Chinese employed in the mercantile marine number 3,309, all but 236 of whom are males, this being an increase of 365 males and 236 females. The boat population of the New Territories (islands) is placed at 8,337. The total boat population for the whole Colony is 440,636, of whom 285,374 are male and 155,262 females.

A NEW COAST LIGHT.

China coast mariners are greatly pleased with a new light which has been placed on Chi-lan promontory, which is situate about 80 miles north of Hongkong. . The light, which is one of the very latest of its kind, has been installed by the Imperial Maritime Customs, and will be in charge of two Europeans and three Chinese. It was originally suggested that the light should be placed on Reef Lland, but after the matter had been referred to prominent coasting skippers it was finally decided that Chi-lan Point was the best place for it. The work of installation has been going on for the past two years, and the light was first used on Saturday last. It is a very bright occulting light, and some idea of its power may be gai ed when it is pointed out that Capt. Passmore, of the s.s., Hai ching, says he has clearly observed it at a distance of 24 miles. It is one of the finest Tho illuminating aparatus is groun

RAMBLING NOTES.

We are having a fair dose of holidays | berth in the following style :this year. But I suppose nobody will grumble except a few unfortunate creatures such as newspaper men who always have to keep their noses to the grindstone. Those who were lucky enough to get off from Friday night to Tuesday morning had A right royal time. Now we are looking forward to the Coronation holidays. We are not greedy but we like a lot.

There are one or two little matters which will need attention before we embark on our Coronation jollifications in Hougkong. The environment in which the statue of King George finds itself in Royal Square is not altogether what it might, be. Let's hope the Law Court matsheds will be absolutely buried in bunting that day. And the statue of our late beloved Queen Victoria could do with the attentions of a fire-hose. Its present blackened condition may look impressively ancient, "but a clean-up would cortainly not be

I see that newpapers in adjacent ports, - commenting on the big sum we have raised, say that it seems far too big an amount to squander on "feasting and fireworks," and the hope is expressed that a portion at least will be devoted to some useful public purpose. This gratuitous advice is hardly necessary, for the Committee has long decided to devote the surplus to charitable Caubos.

The Sanitary Board must be fancying itself these days in its new quarters, which are certainly an improvement on the old building. I noticed while the "flitting" was going on that most of the effects were being removed in "rubbish"-carts-and "dust" carts. I hope there's no special significance about that fact !

Some Government regulations read as if they were conceived by a humourist. One just issued might be so viewed. It lays down that only the following wheeled vehicles are allowed on Kennedy Road :-A rickshaw, bicycle, tricycle or other almilar machine not propelled by a motor, and "a perambulator or other similar machine." That's all right as far as it goes. But then comes this fearfully harsh condition :- "Any such wheeled vehicle shall proceed round the bends of Kennedy Road at a moderate speed." The other day I referred to the depopula. tion of Scotland. It is now refreshing to read the arrangements made, by the International Committee of Scotamen in the United States and Canada; for the big Scottish homegoing to take place this summer. The home-comors are to embark at Montreal on the steamer Grampian on July 7. Pipers, vocalists, and entertainers will accompany the excursionists; leading River by the Canton-Hankow Railway - clergymen will hold services in the steamer Scottish songs will be sung; tales of "Auld 'Lang Syne" will be told; in fact, everything possible will be done by the committee to make this voyage a memorable .one. A very influential reception committee has been formed in Scotland, and it is expected that the Glasgow Corporation will officially welcome the party on its arrival. Here's a tip for Hongkong. Why can't all Scotamen going on leave next year charter a steamer on their own? What a brave show they'd make. They might get an official welcome, too.

Some weird communications find their way to a newspaper office. Here's one received by the China Mail, from Paris :-"Dear Sir,-Plesso will you give me by

As a precaution, he wore a hood and blinkers, and this experiment was fully justified by the result, for he was out by himself all through the race, and wou as he liked. Moreover, the form was good, for Eiderduck, who was only third, had won her last two mees. Pintadeau is evidently quite a useful colt; and is likely to score again in the near future. REPORTED REVOLUTIONARY MEETING IN HONGKONG.

We are informed from what would appear years, and particularly during the last twelve months, open air meetings have been held by Chinese reformers in Hongkong at which Revolution is openly preached by queneless "stump orators" as they are known in England. Before the new Victoria Theatre was built there have been as many as three meetings being held simultaneously on the plot of ground on which the building stands, each with a very large number of followers and seeming supporters: Now that they can no longer take up their stand there, we are informed that they collect in most of the principal side streets in that vicinity completely blocking up the footpaths and roadways. Whether revolution is being preached or not these crowds ought not to be allowed to impede the traffic in the manner they do. In other parts of the city similar meetings are held nightly, and persons who thoroughly understand Chinese and have listened to many of the speakers emphatically assure us that Revolution and nothing but Reparticularly noticeable a few months before the recent attempted Revolution in Canton and now such meetings are, it is said, being carried on as vigourously as ever .We also learn on excellent authority that the Revolutionists now think they made a grave mistake in attacking Canton and that their next move will be to Peking, the wast of Government, where hostilities will be commenced shortly.

We hope the authorities will keep a watchful eye on these Chinese meeting held in our midst, for the advocacy of a Revolution in the territory of a neighbouring and friendly power should not be

SKIN DRIED, CRACKED AND PEELED OFF

In Scales, Leaving Face Raw, Very Painful. Made Her Low in Realth. Used Cuticurs Ointment. In Less than a Week Trouble Gena. Other Things Soothed for the Mement, but Cuticura Ointment Cured.

been suffering from an alignent of the akin on the face, both in extremely cold weather and when the sun was hot. The skin would dry and crack, then poel off in soalse, leaving her poor face quite raw. When the skin used to peel off, people used to ask me, until I was thed, 'Oh, what is the matter with her face?' Some even went so far as to say I neglected is, wheresay I neglected it, whereapplying some cintment or other. Some of these soothed for the time, but it would get as bad as ever, and if she happened to cry, the teers running on the raw pinces were very painful. It made her very low in her stocked health, and her hair commanced to come out. It spread on to her forehead and come out. It spread on to her forehead and all around her mouth.

"It was about this time that I sent for the Cuticura Ointment. After applying it continually for three days it showed signs. of manding until in less than a week it had completely gone, and what is most important, has not returned with the cold weather. I rubbed some Cuticura Ointment on her scalp, and her hair stopped falling out, and I am thankful it is to be had so reasonable in price. I had spent a lot on other things which only soothed for the moment, but Cuticura Ointment cured." (Signed) hirs. B. J. Roberts, 17, Cranworth St., Bootle, Liverpool, England, Jan. 17, 1910.
